

Michael A. Taylor, Senior Vice President
Pursuit Lending (formerly known as New York Business Development Corporation)

The first 17 years of my working career was spent at HSBC Bank. I was involved in many roles, the most involved Small Business Lending.

I have been with Pursuit since 2005. We work with the local banks providing commercial lending options for their business customers. The vast majority of what we do involves an SBA component, depending on the project and needs of the customer.